1 - Series 2018-C and Series 2019-A entered their Principal Accumulation Periods on June 1, 2021, and July 1, 2021, respectively during which they have been allocated Finance Charge Collections and Default Amounts based on their Collateral Amount rather than the outstanding principal amount of the notes. The Collateral Amount is reduced by the amount of Principal Collections that are applied to the series and deposited in the Principal Accumulation Account. Taking into account the reduced allocations, the excess spread percentages would have been as follows: (1) Series 2018-C: 16.57% for the July 2021 Monthly Period, 11.03% for the August 2021 Monthly Period, and 6.68% for the September 2021 Monthly Period; (2) Series 2019-A: 18.41% for the August 2021 Monthly Period and 16.78% for the September 2021 Monthly Period.
